The Skids are Under Sifton's Government*Refuse Commission of Judges to Investigate Charges Against Attorney-General's Department

With his usual sarcasm and ridicule, Premier Sifton is attempting to make very little of the Stanley charges directed against the administration of the liquor license department of his government. In some cases sarcasm and ridicule go a long way towards turning the minds of the intelligent electorate, but this is one case in which Sifton has guessed wrong. His ridicule, supported by the affidavits of two Edmonton hotel-keepers, is his only excuse for not granting a commission to look into the charges.

Never since the grave days of the A. and C. W. railway scandal has the government of Alberta faced so serious a situation as that at present confronting the Sifton government with respect to the charges laid against the department of the attorney-general by Dr. Stanley, member for High River. Never has a matter of such paramount political importance to the province and government of Alberta been brought up, and never has the integrity of the government been so placed that the whole people of the province are anxious to know what is back of the charges which so vitally affect the honor and worth of the party which is in control of power in the province.

The charges were spoken on in the house last week, and resulted in an airy sweeping aside of the requests of the opposition and a general and apparently studied system of merry humor. The most serious statements made by the opposition were considered as the most excruciating jokes and the government members spent most of their time in trying to produce loud laughter among themselves or else in trying to create disturbances with interruptions and more or less irrelevant remarks. These methods were not confined to the rank and file of party followers. They were led by Premier Sifton, who, at the close of Dr. Stanley's request that the motion be taken under consideration, stated that, "this government will never consent to an investigation other than one by this house or by a criminal court."

The government's policy in dealing with the important charges produced by Dr. Stanley is, apparently one of well-defined lines. Under no consideration will they grant a royal commission to investigate the charges unless the opposition lays its cards on the table and shows what evidence it has to substantiate these charges.

E. Michener, Red Deer, leader of the opposition, who followed Premier Sifton in the debate which was opened by Dr. Stanley, delivered one of the best fighting speeches of his career, and outfaced a most bitter attack of laughter, scorn, innuendo, and sarcasm which came from the full line of government seats opposing him.

Premier Sifton spoke, and Hon. C. W. Cross spoke. No other government member opened his mouth in debate during the entire afternoon session. On the other hand, in addition to Dr. Stanley and E. Michener, George Hoadley (Okotoks), J. Kemmis (Pincher Creek), and A. F. Ewing (Edmonton), spoke. The government, after voicing its opinions through the premier and the attorney-general simply sat tight and waited for the opposition to get through. From appearances they had decided that nothing in the world would force them to grant a royal commission to investigate the department of the attorney-general.

Dr. Stanley, in speaking to his motion, outlined a few more particulars to his charges. He repeated the charges he made when he spoke last week, and he added a few details. He said that concerning the first charge regarding hotel-keepers contributing toward election campaign funds in wholesale manner he charged collusion between agents of the department and the licensees. He stated that he produced sufficient evidence to satisfy any judicial commission that at least $10,000 had been used in this way.

Concerning the second charge referring to licensees paying for concessions, he declared he had sufficient evidence to prove that at least $60,000 had been paid by the licensees of the province. The third charge was to the effect that licensees had paid thousands of dollars to stifle prosecutions, and the speaker has in his possession evidence sufficient to prove that at least $10,000 was used in this manner.

The fourth charge was to the effect that in 1914 a party of hotel licensees had endorsed a note for $25,000, the proceeds of which went to the department of the attorney-general or to the campaign fund of the party, this sum to be payment in full and to relieve said licensees from further extortions.

Premier Sifton, in replying, declared that the first three charges were so indefinite and general that they were beyond consideration. But the fourth one was a more important proposition, affecting as it did the government. He would soon set at rest any doubts on this matter. Then he produced affidavits, or sworn depositions, from C. H. Belanger, president of the Licensed Victuallers' Association, and from Robert McDonald, hotelkeeper, of Edmonton, a member of the Executive of the Licensed Victuallers. Mr. Belanger's deposition said he had cashed a joint note for $25,000 in 1914 and had handed the money to Robert McDonald. Mr. Belanger knew nothing of the money ever reaching government through any direct or indirect method.

Robert McDonald's deposition stated that he had received the $25,000 from Mr. Belanger and the money was used in connection with the Licensed Victuallers' Association. To his knowledge none of the money ever went to buying government immunity or to the government in any direct or indirect way.

"We believe," said Dr. Stanley in conclusion, "that it is all the more important at this time that the license department should be above reproach in view of the being into effect of the liquor act. The public rumors are that agents of the government have been taking advantage of their positions to secure money from the licensees. If the government is sincere it will grant the request of the motion and place the investigation above partisanship. In investigating serious charges against government the best plan is to have a tribunal of the kind proposed. A memorial signed by prominent Liberals of Regina has submitted that the government of Saskatchewan should appoint a commission to investigate somewhat similar charges and the suggestion was accepted by the acting premier of that province."

Premier Sifton said he had anticipated that Dr. Stanley would have something substantial to back up his statements of last week. He was surprised that he should have stirred up so much fuss on the indefinite motion which was submitted. No royal commission had ever been granted because a member said he had information that satisfied himself that such and such was so.

The member for High River will have to satisfy members of the house as well as himself. No doubt said the premier the member for High River regretted having to make the charges the day after he, as premier, had informed the liquor men that there would be no change in the liquor act. The license department was being attacked now that it was going out of existence. It would have to depend for its certificate of character on its record of ten years during which it had not been assailed.

"I understand," said the premier, "that it is a very common thing to make election contributions, even for the purposes of the opposition, though I would not go so far as to say they were not legitimate." He continued that the making of contributions was not a matter for a royal commission. He was inclined to believe that in isolated cases hotel licensees have given money for campaign purposes, but he did not know to which side they gave them.

Here the premier produced the sworn depositions of C. H. Belanger and Robert McDonald. Both depositions attested that neither man gave any of the $25,000 directly or indirectly to the government. Premier Sifton here introduced the Calgary Brewery, and finished by stating that his explanation of the whole matter disposed of the $25,000 affair so far as the government was concerned.

"If the member for High River," said the premier, "has any evidence to produce, if he will place it before the government, this government will supply all assistance, legal, judges, lawyers, and the government will pay the expenses and let them run the prosecution. But it will not send it to a commission of judges. This government or the criminal courts will run the investigation."

Mr. Michener, who followed the premier, said he was disappointed in the stand adopted by the government, a stand of subterfuge to try to evade serious charges. If the government did not give assistance in this matter the enfranchised women of the province would assist in cleaning house when the opportunity arose.

"Innuendo and sarcasm cannot sidetrack a serious question concerning the integrity and honesty of the government of the province," said Mr. Michener, after listening to a period of noisy demonstration from the government side. He continued, and took up the matter of the very evident effort made by the premier to create an impression that the opposition had linked itself with the liquor interests. He stated that none of the charges preferred by Dr. Stanley were laid through the instrumentality of the licensed victuallers' association. None were investigated by this means, and none were assailed. Mr. Michener asked how the attorney-general's department could be expected to administer the liquor act if it was in collusion with the liquor interests for years. What proof could the government produce that better faith would be kept with the temperance people than has been kept with the liquor people. Referring to the Belanger and McDonald explanations, he was not satisfied with them.

Mr. Sifton—Whose business is the $25,000 if it did not go to the government?

Mr. Michener—Whose business, if it did?

There was a stir of applause in the galleries at this retort.

Mr. Michener continued: "It is well for the government to make light and laugh at these serious charges, but it is the right of the people to demand more light on the matter. It would be in the interests of the government to grant an investigation now rather than wait until a number of the best Liberals demand it. It may be that the government will try to delay this matter and play fast and loose until persons necessary for a thorough investigation have left the country. Already we learn that certain people are preparing to leave. Unless the first minister provides an adequate commission to investigate these charges he stands condemned, and until he grants an investigation he cannot clear the government in the eyes of the people."

Mr. Michener said that party funds were a vicious principle; and that the sooner the system was done away with the better it would be for the country and the people. He said it was doubly vicious to receive contributions from a class whose very existence depended on the good will of the government. It was common knowledge as to what condition exists between the license department and the licensees. It has become notorious. When the honorable member for Coronation was speaking in reply to the speech from the throne he praised the administration of the attorney-general's department. "The honorable member might consult the member for Stettler and learn much on this matter," said Mr. Michener.

"The liquor act now on the statute books," said the speaker, "is of no value unless the people have the fullest confidence that the minister controlling the department will administer it fully. But what confidence can he had if there is suspicion that there might be such grave irregularities as in the past? The people are no longer ready to stand for graft and corruption. The people demand sincerity, integrity, and honesty in all government administration, demanding the same loyalty and patriotism in government affairs as that shown by the man who enlists to fight for the Empire."

Mr. Michener finished with arraignment of the government department of railroads and telephones, inferring that serious errors and deeds might yet be found there. He said that if the government refused a commission that suspicion would rest on the government among the people. The government had been retained in power by corrupt liquor, railway and promotion funds. It can delay, defer, and laugh, yet, if the opposition cannot force an investigation the best class of Liberals will.

Hon. C. W. Cross spoke next. He said he had been disappointed in the charges, but that though not so explicit as he had thought, yet they were serious to him and his department. Most serious of all was the charge that he or his department had stifled prosecutions. During ten years of administration he had ever endeavored to prosecute all criminal cases, and his department had done so, as any lawyer in the province would say. While at all times a keen politician, yet he never let politics interfere with or affect the administration of criminal law. He urged that the evidence against his department be produced so that it could be tried before any judge in the province that the opposition would select. Any specific charge would be dealt with. He believed that no personal charge was made against him, but if there ever was so serious that apparently the government was afraid to take one step without knowing where that step would be. They wanted light to show them their way out of the labyrinth. Speaking of the objection raised by the premier of the cost of the investigation, Mr. Hoadley thought that this could be saved if the government wiped out the office of government commissioner in London.

In winding up he said that the opposition refused to take chances with the documents they possess, or with the people who will be called on to give evidence at the investigation.

J. Kemmis, of Pincher Creek, followed in a brief but vigorous speech demanding an investigation. He said his party would press for a commission until it was obtained. Dr. Stanley's reputation as a public man depended on these charges, and the reputation of all who backed Dr. Stanley was also at stake. Yet Belanger depositions. He urged also that the department of the attorney-general should be cleared of all taint of suspicion before it takes up the administration of the liquor act.

George Hoadley, Okotoks, said he did not admire the action of the government in endeavoring to treat the matter with levity and sarcasm. An investigation was necessary as a matter of justice to the attorney-general and every man in the department. "The main point of the objection is that we do not produce names," remarked the fighting member from Okotoks. "I sat in the house when documents were taken out of this house to defeat the ends of justice, and now we are asked to place in the hands of those who did this thing the evidence we possess."

Mr. Hoadley spoke of the absolute control Premier Sifton held over the rank and file of the government members and deplored it as dangerous to representation.

The War Office has decided that soldiers in Canada can get a month's furlough during seedling time this year. Any young men on the farms, who have been waiting until after seedling to enlist, can do so now, and take their furlough when work commences.

When a young, strong-looking man entered a crowded street car in Edmonton a day or two ago, a young lady got up and offered him her seat. The young man protested and the young lady insisted that he take it, saying that any young man who looked so fit and was not in uniform, should sit down so that he would not be so conspicuous.

Percy Flemming, for years assistant to Agent Jackson, C. P. R., and E. Mann, of the Government Telephone Service, are the two latest young men in Lacombe to join the colors. These men have had nerve enough to throw up good positions to go to the assistance of their country, and their example should be followed by others.

"It makes me tired," remarked a young lady to a Globe reporter the other day, "to go in to a store three times and have a package of ten or a can of beans handed out to me by a young man who would look well in uniform. Why, dozens of us girls would be glad to hold down their situations for them if they would only enlist. And we would let them have them back gladly when the war is over. We can't enlist, but we can help to let the young men who are fit to do duty go."

On Friday evening last about fifty friends from the Blindman Valley and other parts of the district, gave a surprise party to Olaf Eggen, who is leaving the district to reside in Red Deer. A very pleasant evening was spent, and before leaving in the early morning hours they presented the family with a handsome silver service as a slight token of the esteem in which they were held in the Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Campbell returned on Friday after a two months holiday trip through California and British Columbia. While away they visited the great exposition at San Diego and San Francisco. Many old Lacombe citizens were met in California, and they report a very enjoyable trip. Both Mr. and Mrs. Campbell have been greatly benefited by the trip. A musical programme was much enjoyed in Reid Hall, Ponoka, on Wednesday evening, 1st inst. Miss Hiron's pupils, Miss Jennie Roberts, of Ponoka, won the competition held at Magic on Wednesday, against all comers, her selection being the Welsh air, "The Old Minstrel." The prize was a gold medal.

We heard a man remark a few days ago, on the eve of his departure for the United States, that the reason he was going was that he did not want his boy to be forced into the army by conscription, and that before very long he was sure there would be conscription in Canada.

As soon as the war was over he would come back. The men of the above type are a good loss to Canada, and no gain to the United States, and our American cousins are welcome to them. The only thing we are sorry about is that we cannot keep these things out of Canada after the war is over. As to conscription—there will never be such a thing in Canada—our men do not have to be forced into the ranks, and are coming forward in increasing numbers every day. Six hundred thousand volunteer soldiers will be Canada's record—and every one will be proud of our empire and the great flag of freedom—the grand old Union Jack—and will give his life to keep it flying. Let those who are fearing conscription go—we are far better off without this class of cattle.

Those young men who are eligible for service in the troops of the British Empire, but who have evinced no desire to leave their positions and comfortable homes, should think the matter over carefully when they are alone some of these nights. They should think of the real pleasure it would be for them, in after years, to be able to look men in the face and say that when the Empire called for men they answered the call and did their bit to keep the Union Jack flying.

They should also think of what will take place when peace is declared. While their positions may be perfectly safe until that time, they can rest assured that there will be a change then. The young man who has shown that he appreciated the protection of Great Britain will have the preference in every line of endeavor. The shirker will have to be content to hold down the minor positions. It is only natural that this will be the case, and the young men will have no one to blame but themselves. We will be so busy finding positions for our returned soldier boys that the stay-at-homes will have to be content with what is left after they have been provided for.

If interested in good young work horses, mares in foal, or colts, arrange to attend Smith Read & Son's Public Sale on Monday, the 20th.

And still more are joining the colors. H. Henderson, of Morrison & Johnston, Limited; W. L. Leslie, of the Royal Bank staff. Alex. Ross, Mr. Dooley, late of the Royal Bank here; two sons of Alf. Murphy, late of Lacombe, have all enlisted during the past few days, and there are others that should go.

O-Cedar Mops, both round and triangle. Prices 75c. and $1.50. We will let you have one on trial. Morrison & Johnston, Limited.

Remember the big hockey game tonight at the rink—Married Men vs. Single Men—in aid of the Red Cross. We doubt, from the personnel of the two teams, if a greater match could be arranged even with the Bear-Cats of Edmonton or the Canadiens of Montreal, champions of the N.H.A. Such players as Del, Garland, "Billy" Reid, Ray Melvin, and Neil Munn, will be on the married men's line-up, while "Jack" Hall, Les Steers, Percy Puffer, Manager Morrison of the Merchants Bank, Dan Burk, Jack McDonald, and Bill French will be on the single men's team. See it to-night (Wednesday) at the Lacombe rink at 8 o'clock sharp.

Smith Read & Son's Public Sale will be held at the farm, four miles due north of Bentley, on Monday, March 20, commencing at 12 o'clock. A fine lot of horses, including 22 head of extra good young animals rising one and two years old, also the celebrated Suffolk Punch Stallion, "Alberta Monarch," will be sold. There is also a good bunch of cattle and hogs, and some farm implements. No reserve. C. F. Damron, Auctioneer.

C. A. Putland, while in Edmonton this week, had a short talk with Premier Sifton on the chances for the early completion of the Lacombe & Blindman Electric Railway. The Premier could give him no assurance of government help at the present time, but thought that after the original company and the contractors had come to some understanding something might be done to hasten construction. At the present time Contractor Hogan is suing the firm of Taylor, Gibson & Strathy, the promoters, for something like $40,000 for work performed in 1913, and until this little matter is settled nothing can be done.

Leave your order for Rainbow Barn Paint, price $1.35 per gallon, at Morrison & Johnston, Limited.

Don't miss attending the McDonald Sale on the 23rd. See list in another column; there's something there you need.

N. C. V. Nielsen, of Ponoka, was in town this week looking for recruits for the Vikings battalion, now being recruited. ## TOOK THE ADVICE OF HIS FRIEND

Stomach Trouble and Rheumatism Relieved By "Fruit-a-tives"

604 Champlain St., Montreal.

"I have been restored to health by taking 'Fruit-a-tives.' For two years, I was a miserable sufferer from Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble. I became very weak, had frequent dizzy spells and when I took food, felt wretched and sleepy. I suffered from Rheumatism dreadfully, with pains in my back and joints and my hands swollen."

A friend advised me to try 'Fruit-a-tives' and from the outset, they did me good. After I had started the second box, I felt I was getting well and I persevered in the treatment. I can truthfully say that 'Fruit-a-tives' is the only medicine that helped me."

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" is the famous medicine made from fruit juices. 60c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. All dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Lacombe's Show of Spring Millinery

Notwithstanding the fact that the snow and la grippe are still in our midst the display of New Spring Millinery, which, like the re-appearance of daffodils, crocuses, and hyacinths, heralds the approach of Spring each year, is with us again, and on Friday (Old Sol will beam forth in all his glory on the gay creations that have been fashioned for Madame's adornment this season.

The Spring Millinery, always more attractive en masse than that of the Fall, and particularly that of last Fall, when all the prevailing colors were so noticeably dull, this year is pretty gay and wearable. The once popular black and black and white combinations are conspicuous by their absence, except the wide black and white stripe, which is very popular.

Rose, pale gray, geranium, and cherry red, are very much "the thing" in millinery, while for those who prefer the quieter shades there are our old friends, nigger brown, subsequently known as African or seal brown, Russian green and Corbeau blue.

There are many close-fitting small hats which are designed for motor wear, but are dressy, and some large ones as well, though none that can be called "big." Cunning little mushroom shapes and quaint bonnet effects, with high crowns, are seen in profusion, and these are not all for the kiddies either, but for the grown-ups as well, though, of course, there is an age limit at which these are becoming. There are many dainty models this season made of Georgette crepe, a charming material for whatever purpose used, and comes in many delicate and beautiful colors. Silk, too, of various kinds, is used as a foundation for many pretty hats, with a facing or an edge of straw braid. For the very dainty lady there are hats made entirely of ribbon, with a picot edge and a smart bow poised jauntily on top of the crown.

Gages, of Chicago, showed stunning little bell-shaped hats, with flowers and fruits banded around the top and rows of narrow ribbon below. Many of these were made in the pastel, or neutral shades, which promise to be very popular for summer wear.

In the smaller hats the crowns and trimmings have a tendency to mount up and up, which adds to the height in a way to charm the heart of the small woman who wants to look bigger.

And, speaking of trimmings, brings one to the subject of the flowers, for, surely never were flowers more popular than this year. A millinery parlor this season gives the effect of an exceeding prolific flower-garden, and the flowers are truly natural enough to carry out the illusion. Some hats have their entire crowns composed of flowers. Fruit, looking almost inviting enough to eat, is also good as trimming. One of the novelties this season is lacquered foliage, which, as the name suggests, is of an extreme shininess.

Very attractive are the ribbon-trimmed hats, with large bows of wide taffeta or faille ribbon, while rosettes and wheels are made of narrow grosgrain, or picot edge ribbon.

The "Chin-Chin" is a splendid style for the people who like a medium-size hat, and "perk" is absolutely the only word to apply to the little French rose-gays that surmount the very tip-top of these hats.

Fine straw braids are much used, while tulle, for both trimmings and hats, were never more in evidence than they are this year. Sequin is very prominent also.

The window displays of the large American stores showed models with suits, hats, and shoes, all to match.

Pearl or dove gray nigger brown and navy blue were the colors shown the most for these outfits.

A CHAMPIONSHIP BATTLE

The Rex management has gone to a great deal of trouble and expense to secure for their patrons the pictures of the championship battle between Johnson and Willard. If you want to see how the big smoke got his see the pictures at the Rex on Friday and Saturday nights, or at the matinee on Saturday. These pictures are spoken very highly of by press and public, and had three return engagements in the City of Calgary. On account of the great expense in securing them the prices for adults will be 50c., and for the younger people 25c. See the manly art of self-defence demonstrated by these two exponents at the Rex on Friday and Saturday nights and matinee Saturday.

"THE GOOSE GIRL"

Marguerite Clark, that little screen star, who is pressing Little Mary Pickford very closely for premier honors, will be seen at the Rex, on Monday evening next in "The Goose Girl," a picture of Harold McGrath's most famous romantic novel. She will be assisted by an exceptionally strong cast, among them being: Monroe Salisbury, Sidney Dean, James Neil, L. Payton, Miss Johnson, Jane Darwell, and others. The scenes are splendid, and the acting all that could be desired by the most fastidious. Don't miss this Paramount production. Remember the time and place—the Rex next Monday night.

Here's the remarkable experience of a Nova Scotian:—

SIFTON WILL HOLD ELECTION SOONER THAN SUBMIT TO JUDICIAL INVESTIGATION

Ever since the steam roller was put to work on Dr. Sifton's motion last Tuesday, even- ing government forces have been wondering what the Conservatives intend to do with regard to the temporarily blocked effort to obtain a royal commission to look into the affairs of the department of the attorney-general. When, under the able direction of Hon. A. L. Sifton, the efficient machine-made veto obediently arrayed itself behind the leader and pushed the motion of the member for High River, there was temporary relief—the sort of relieved feeling that a man feels when he goes fearfully into a bank to renew a note and finds the bank manager willing. This relief usually lasts several days. It is a great temporary exhilarator. Later the days bring to the borrower realization of the fact that the note is coming due again. That is the condition of the government party now. It is somewhat restless and very curious as to what methods the Conservatives intend to pursue.

One thing has slipped out from the government and that is the knowledge of its plan of campaign. It will not under any consideration allow an investigation, it is said. Rather by far call an election and go to the country with a new policy of rural credits, stolen from the Conservatives, and some side frills such as well-prepared maps showing what an idealistic system of trunk roads would look like on paper.

An investigation might turn them out; an election would bring better chances of success. The people are more easily handled from platform and by machine than are judges of the supreme court. The government knows that it has built a pretty obedient machine in Alberta and feels that it can depend on the organization to bring it through. An investigation might shatter the machine. An election, which could be held off for a year, might again be successfully handled, so, as far as the government is concerned, there will be no investigation.

INOCULATION NEEDLE SAVES LIVES OF MANY SOLDIERS

Often the list of men rejected by the recruiting officer contains the names of one or more who are turned down for this reason, "refused inoculation."

According to the army medical men, this statement simply means that the men refused a guarantee of safety from typhoid fever. Inoculation bears the endorsement of the whole medical world, and is further recommended by the fact that in those soaking, soggy, stinking battlefields of Europe, typhoid fever, the great bane of earlier wars, is practically unknown, because the soldiers are inoculated.

Inoculation is described as follows by the medical officer of one of the new battalions:

The organism of typhoid, that is, the typhoid germ, is a red-shaped bacillus about one five-hundredth of an inch in size. A microscope is required to see it.

The doctors take some of these germs and "plant" them in agaragar, a form of jelly-like seaweed. The germs grow and multiply millions a day. When they are sufficiently numerous they are taken out into a saline solution and killed by 57 degrees centigrade.

When dead, these germs form a toxin or poison. One cubic centimeter of this water contains 250,000,000 dead typhoid germs.

The man who is to be inoculated has one cubic centimeter of this liquid injected into his skin on his breast; that is, 250,000,000 dead germs. A week later he has another 250,000,000, and a week later than that the final dose of 500,000,000.

The human body promptly produces an anti-toxin to fight off the action of this poison. And in so doing creates a power to ward off live typhoid bacilli that remains for two years after inoculation, and often later.

The effects of inoculation are in the form of a false pseudo attack of typhoid. That battle of the germs inside makes the man sweat and fidget. But it is a sure battle, because the germs on the man's side are alive and multiply enormously, and the enemy germs are dead and can't multiply at all.

Some men never feel the effects. This is because they already had a high power to throw off typhoid. Others who have no such power get a slight fever from the necessary forming of billions of anti-typhoid bacteria inside of them.

But never is a man laid out by inoculation. Rarely is a man off parade. During the inoculation, sometimes a man faints, and that is always the big event in the battalion "bug parades," as they are called. It isn't the weak ones who faint generally. It is the big fellows, who breathe deeply and inhale the iodine, a solution of which is put in a small dab on the skin just where the hypodermic needle is put in.

There is no pain. It is all a matter of nerves or a little fever.

But the greatest argument of all is that millions of men are now living in a land fairly alive with typhoid and not a single germ dare enter their bodies, for the reason that there is a hungry army of anti-typhoid germs ready to pounce on them. The one great danger of warfare, a danger greater than 42-centimeter shells or machine guns, is being eliminated nearly every day in Canada by the army medical officers with their little needles.

WAR AND THE CHILDREN OF PARIS

We climb the steps of the parterre and walk along the alleys of the Observatoire on our homeward way. Everywhere the children have organized themselves into armies. Big trees are fortresses. It is possible, even inside the iron gates, to storm redoubts and trenches. For workmen have been laying a gas main from the Rue de Vaugirard to the Boul' Miché. Mercifully they are doing it slowly. The opportunity is splendid; real trenches are at hand.

Near the upper gate a group of older boys (older means from 10 to 13) are gathered around a veteran of 1870, who, tracing the battlefield with a cane in the sand, explains the campaign in the Argonne. Another veteran drills seriously every day the younger boys from the Lycee Montaigne. Convalescent soldiers join in the training of the next generation.

Girls have their prominent and essential place in the play armies. The wee women of France are not shelved by the masculine sex. Equality begins in the nursery. Jumping ropes and hoops have been laid aside for happier days. Even diabolio is losing ground. Tennis rackets gather dust on the upper shelf of the hall closet. Dolls are wounded soldiers, and doll carriages, if used at all, are ambulances.

Like their elder sisters, the little girls of the Luxembourg have enlisted for Red Cross duty, and follow the armies to give first aid on the battlefields. Park benches are improvised hospitals. Set forth on them, bottles, cotton, and bandages show the stern reality of their play. The nurses wear the regulation headgear, with the cross upon the forehead. Smaller boys, who can be bossed, are impressed into service as stretcher-bearers.

The children reflect the spirit of the nation and the work of the nation. The war has first place in the minds of all. It has first place in the efforts of all. It is not play at its best an imitation of what the grownups are thinking and doing?

And in the Luxembourg the other side of the war is revealed to one at every turn. War means glory and immortality only to poets and orators, to the rest of the world it means suffering and death.

Soldiers there are a plenty. But by far the greater number in uniform are wounded and convalescents. In every alley one meets the maimed on crutches, or the blind, who are learning with hesitating footsteps a new dependence on cane or loving arm. As they pass, the chere blesses (dear wounded ones), the children pause in their play and salute them silently.

Tear-filled eyes and lips that have scant respite from quivering bear witness to the children's knowledge of what war means. They are not allowed to idealize war as they would instinctively do; in the enthusiasm of earnest play the glory of war should be uppermost. But then the chere blesses pass, and pain, none the less intense because it cannot be analyzed by them, grips little hearts.

Bad Lands News

(Cum Grano Salis)

Some of our leading citizens are shortly to visit Edmonton and petition Lieutenant-Governor Brett to appoint a Royal Commissioner to enquire into the cause of James Muir's frequent visits to Bentley. He has been there twice in two weeks lately.

Our recent report of the disappearance of Master Harvey Rorick was a false alarm. On the first occasion Master Rorick stayed at a neighbor's till the wee sma' hours; on the second he forgot to come home. As his papa is liable in $1,000 for his appearance when called on, he got excited and began scouring the country for his son, hence our report.

"Puffer is always being mentioned for some kind of office, I wonder why he never gets appointed to one?" "I suspect that's because Puffer's friends are the sort of people who wish you well without stopping to see whether their wishes are carried out or not."

Master Milton Miles is in great tribulation. On Feb. 21st he dropped his sheep-lined coat on the trail going through John Demmon's old quarter, and his mother is threatening to chastise him for carelessness with a big stick. He hopes that if the three men who were in the rig following picked it up they will leave it at the P.O., Bentley.

We do not know if there was a free distribution of whiskey last week in Lacombe. There must have been some great attraction in that city. Bentley was practically denuded of males; there only remained the mail in the P.O.

There are some budding nimrods in New Aberdeen. The Rathwell boys thought they were some rabbit-hunters, but they know now that a Ford car is a cayuse all skinned when it comes to the chase. It is also far cheaper to scare the rabbits to death with the horn than to use 22 shells.

Joe Stephenson tells us he intends playing ball this summer.

Since "Our Own Correspondent" introduced the sheep-tail polka to the elite of Bentley it has caught on with a vengeance. Jimmy says what he likes about it is any fool can dance it.

Would it be called self-righteousness if Herb Birch said "My sins are as many as the hairs of mine head?"

"Saint Michael is a pessimist, isn't he?" "Not exactly," I should call him an optimist. "What do you mean?" "He acknowledges that every cloud has a silver lining, but grumbles because it is on the farther side."

The city girl bearding at Palma's spoke to him about the savage way the bull looked at her. "Well," said Gus, "it must be on account of that red waist you are wearing." "Dear me," said the girl, "I know it is awfully out of fashion, but I had no idea a country bull would notice it."

The risks some people will run to make a short cut are appalling. The other day on our road to Bentley we saw Erastus Miles coming down the R.R. track with a load of straw to make a cut off of one-eighth of a mile. If the Lacombe-Rimby flyer had happened along just then where would Ray be now? That would depend on the kind of life Ray had lived in the past.

"Remember, the eyes of the nation are on you," said John Pincham. "I know it," replied W. V. Puffer, "and the nation's getting more acutely discerning every day. The time is gone when a man can assume an impressive pose and get by as an optical illusion."

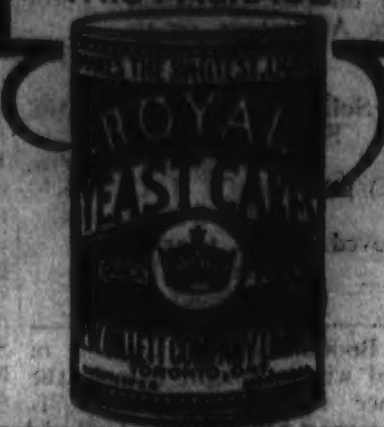

Ed. Jones on his stenographer. With best of reason notes: She's the only living person who will take from him his notes! The others demand cash.

And for another reason, too. He swears that she is great! She's the only woman in the world to whom he dares dictate! He's married.

"What is it a sign of when one's lips itch?" asked the dear girl as she lowered the blinds and seated herself on the end of a sofa built for two. "I don't know, I'm sure," replied Morrice Holman, "but I presume it indicates some sort of cutaneous trouble."

Three of our young bloods were crossing the canyon which runs from New Aberdeen to the Greenfeed Valley. As the party had been spending "a night and Burns" one of them had to be helped up the incline. When, thinking him safely at the top, his friends turned him loose, he fell to the bottom. He lay very still, and the other two thinking him severely injured, rushed down to him. As they leaned over to discover his condition, Tim exclaimed, "For God's sake strike a match! I think I'm unconscious!"

DECLINE SUBSTITUTES

James P. walked into the office of John McKenty; he wished to insure his lumber yard and the McPherson Hall. "What facilities have you for extinguishing a fire in Bentley?" asked McKenty. "Well, it sometimes rains," replied James.

Morn Ross has a dog into whose system he should introduce an ounce of cold lead or the brute may get him in trouble. We were gently strolling up Bentley's Broadway when the beast jumped on us from behind. Luckily he got hold of our fur coat instead of a leg. Being incumbered with the coat we weren't able to get a fair kick at the cur.

While sitting in the rotunda of the Arcade Hotel, Bentley, we overheard Bill B. Lee talking to Sam Rimby. "Say, Sam," said Bill, "do you believe there is anything in the way you name animals?" "Sure thing," replied Sam. "We had a horse we called Old Saul, and he was so slow and ornery we thought of shooting him. One of the boys suggested changing his name; so we called him Tom Iddings, and I tell you that that horse turned out a hustler."

"Well, said Bill, "I had a somewhat similar experience; we had a horse called Billy; just you call him Wilhelm and he will be as mean and ornery you can do nothing with him, but say 'come awa, Wullie, ma wee man,' and he will be as mild as new milk."

The little village of Cargill, in Bruce County, has just set a good example in recruiting. 10 per cent. of the whole population have enlisted since the war began. Recently the manager of the Royal Bank there was left to run that institution alone, all the staff having joined the colors for service.

"We went England and France $500,000,000 and never felt it," proudly declared Chas. B. Halpin. "Could you stake me to $1.00 till tomorrow, C.B.?" asked Bill Baillie. "Me? Great Scot? I had $1.00 more than I need. I'd have it framed and hang it up where I could look at it and see what money looks like."

They were talking of the last Teachers' Convention at Rimby. "Yes," said Mr. Iddings, "my address was a great hit; why they applauded me for five minutes after I sat down." "They was awful glad you was through, wasn't they, ha?"

At the commencement of the cold weather we had some three weeks ago, Mr. Caughins took a pair of shoes to Sir Roger de Coverly for repair. At the end of the week Caughins went to Sir Roger for his shoes and found them still untouched. Asking for an explanation, Sir Roger replied it had been too cold to work out of doors. "Out of doors, be damned," answered Caughins, "what has that to do with mending my boots?" Sir Roger made answer that the size of his shop was limited, and he couldn't both get those shoes in doors and work on them at the same time, so he looked on it as an out-door job.

The subject of conversation was weather signs. One believed a ring around the moon was a sign of a coming storm. "Do you count the stars when you see a moon ring?" asked Ben Jaster. "Why?" "Well, you ought to; the number of stars you see will tell you how many days you have to wait for the storm," replied Ben. "The only weather sign I believe in," said Bill Kennedy, "is the northern lights." "What are they a sign of?" asked Jaster. "They are a sign," replied Kennedy, "that tomorrow will be the next day."

Society Notes

The following ladies will not receive again this season nor for some considerable time thereafter: Mrs. Judd Carritt, Mrs. Nels Larsen, Mrs. Thos. Coates, Mrs. Geo. Graham, Mrs. Christian Jansen, Mrs. Fred Peagacy, Mrs. John Aakerholm, Mrs. Carl Hilstaad, Mrs. Bob Jaffray.

Milton News

The Milton Aid met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Green, and a big crowd turned out, as it was such a nice day, still, and the other two thinking him severely injured, rushed down to him. As they leaned over to discover his condition, Tim exclaimed, "For God's sake strike a match! I think I'm unconscious!"

Final arrangements were made for holding a Bazaar and Social, and it was decided to hold it on the fifteenth of the month. 10c. will be charged for supper, and Mr. J. Thomson will look after the sales table. A nice program is being prepared. The President (Mrs. Ames) was unable to be present owing to sickness, but everyone hoped she would soon be better. After partaking of a most enjoyable supper, prepared by Mrs. Green, everyone went home, wishing that the Aid met oftener than once a month.

We were sorry to hear that Miss Cecil Fouts had to undergo an operation for appendicitis last Wednesday, but sincerely hope she will soon be quite better.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Winslow moved into the Morris house last Thursday, and everyone will be pleased to welcome them back to the district.

Mr. G. Grant took a trip to Daysland last Monday.

IMPORTING OF LIQUOR WILL BE PROHIBITED

That those provinces which have voted in favor of prohibition will soon be able to exercise provincial control over the importations of liquor, is the opinion of A. W. Coone, organizer of the Alberta Temperance forces, who has just returned from a trip to Ottawa and the East.

At Ottawa he interviewed Premier Borden and made the request, on behalf of the temperance people of the province and the premier, although he did not commit himself, was very sympathetic. Mr. Coone states that there is a strong feeling in the House of Commons that Dominion-wide prohibition would not carry, but the majority of the members think that the control of the importation of liquor is only fair and equitable and the general opinion seems to be that such a measure is introduced it will carry by a large majority.

With regard to the prohibition referendum in Manitoba, Mr. Coone is of the view that the bill will carry. There is not so much enthusiasm as there was in the Alberta contest. He says that the liquor men do not seem to have a quarter of the money to fight the campaign that the liquor men in Alberta had, for the reason that the hotel men in this province secured subscriptions from the whole of the hotel forces in the Dominion, thus depleting the funds elsewhere and leaving a shortage of the sinews of war for the present campaigns in the past.

He was also present in the Ontario legislature when prohibition came up for discussion. Both parties, he said, committed themselves to the prohibition issue and he states he never witnessed a scene where there was less exhibition of partizan feeling than was manifested there.

Rimby News

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Langmuir are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a son, which was born to them on Saturday, March 11th.

Born.—To Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eckhart, on Monday, March 6th, a son.

Mr. Walter Langmuir, who has been visiting his brother and sisters here, for several weeks, leaves soon for his home in B.C.

Several new buildings are being erected in Rimby. Mr. Moore is building quite an extensive office building. A parsonage is being erected at the Mission, and a wood-shop by Ed. Surrall.

The Merchants Bank is now established in the Wood & Peabody hotel, and the new manager, Mr. McBride, of Okotoks, is in charge.

The farmers of this vicinity marketed a car-load of hogs at Lacombe last week.

Mike Uhl made a trip to Hatfield, Sask., last week, and while there made a deal whereby he has exchanged his Percheron stallion for another one, which he will bring home.

Delbert Cox and Mr. Patch completed the delivery of 1,200 bushels of barley at Lacombe last week. Walker Tegar has marketed a large amount of wheat, and a few other farmers are hauling grain to Lacombe, a rather difficult task as most of this has been delivered on wagons. But, owing to the shortage in cars, most of the grain raised here is still in the bins.

The people who attended the picture show last Saturday evening will certainly have something to laugh about until the next show at least. The programme was without doubt the best given yet. The management has succeeded in getting a much stronger light than those used during the last month, making the show equal to any seen in the cities.

A number of the patrons have asked for a longer show, so on next Saturday evening there will be a five-reel show instead of four, which will necessitate a small advance in the price of admission.

Mr. M. O. Nelson, Inspector of Schools, will give a free lecture in the Town Hall on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, 15th inst. The subject will be "Consolidation of Schools." It is his intention to have all information at hand towards the possible centralization of schools in and around the Rimby District. In the evening, immediately following the "movies," he will show, by means of lantern slides, places in the West where this scheme is working satisfactorily. This is something towards which none can conscientiously turn a deaf ear, and the school officials and all others in surrounding districts are particularly requested to make it a point to be in town that day and attend the meeting. This will give you an opportunity to ask questions.

The Rimby Teachers' Association meets at the High School, Saturday, March 18th. "Every Day Problems in School Work" will be discussed by the teachers.

In addition to the list published in last week's Globe we would give the name of Mr. C. F. Jackson $3.00. This gives a total of $22.25 for Alberta's Red Cross Day.

A nice bale of shirts and socks will be sent to Calgary this week.

Gull Lake News

Mr. E. C. Moore, who has been in Rimby all week, returned on Saturday night, accompanied by his cousin from Edmonton.

Mr. Andrew Carlstrom is leaving for the States in a week or so.

The notable Mrs. John Gilpin was seen carrying down the road early Saturday morning. She informs us her hat and wig will soon be here; they are up on the road.

Mr. T. Murphy and family are leaving for the U.S.A. on the 1st of April.

A number of the young people were entertained Saturday night at Mr. Welsh's in honor of Philip's birthday. Mr. Whitfield, of the 151st, was there, and Miss Margaret Welsh was down from Eckville.

Gilby News

A leap-year dance was held in the Andrews School House on March 4th. Everybody reports a good time. The proceeds will be handed over to the Red Cross.

Woody Nook News

Wm. Macnab, of Edmonton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Macnab, of this district, has enlisted.

Mr. Leonard has been sawing wood for M. Umbreit, W. Meininger, and H. P. Peterson, the past week.

A. Gilmore, of Lacombe, was in the "Nook" on Sunday.

It would be well for the mail carriers along the Gull Lake road to be a little more particular about distributing mail, as on several occasions letters have been found lying along the roadside instead of in the mail-boxes.

P. H. Lowe, from near Blackfalds, was in the district on Tuesday.

Mr. Macnab and W. Wray have been busy working for the Patriotic Fund in this district.

With the chinook our other Woody Nook correspondent thawed out, but it seemed the next cold wave that came along froze him up again.

We understand that the mail department are talking of putting a new mail-route into operation from Blackfalds that will come north as far as the Woody Nook school; that will mean that several of the "Nook" people can have their mail brought right to their own door.

The Post Office at the Gull Lake summer resort, formerly known as Weisville, has been changed to Aspen Beach.

(From Another Correspondent) Brother Frank Leonard, of the Adventist Settlement, has been in our midst with Mr. Cole's saw outfit. Frank is sure the boy to put the wood over the saw.

Mr. Stout has been helping the "Nookers" saw wood when he wasn't playing leap-frog to keep warm.

Mrs. Umbreit has just returned from a visit to Mrs. Gilbert, east of Lacombe.

Mr. F. A. Phipps, who has been in our midst for the past three or four years, informs us that he is moving, with his wife and family, to Moose Jaw, Sask. I am sure that many will be grieved to hear of this, as he has endeavored himself to the hearts of his neighbors.

Say, I hear that Lacombe has a new suburb, called Hong-Kong. It is located west of John Rimby's residence. This is a Chinese settlement, and a very prosperous and industrious one. One of the Nookers' recently visited the settlement. After a substantial chop-suey, made of rabbit, the conversation ran like this: Billy—Say, Choley Chop-Suey, how did you get that bill on the eye and that slit car? Choley Chop-Suey—I got on the ice; I slipped and fell down.

(Later, on road home). Uncle Harry—Say, Bill, Ned Woody tells me that that new team those Chinamen bought run off with a hay rack and threw one of them out. Billy—I wonder—???

Joe Loomis, who holds the world's record for the 300-yard dash, takes 10 feet at one stride and is some 6 feet, 4 inches tall. Now, we have a man in our midst who can beat that all to smash. Thos. Reynolds, who is nearer 4 feet, 6 inches, than 6 feet, 4 inches, made all of 15 feet, at one stride, and kept it up for more than 300 yards.

Now, if the track men would allow Thomas to take old Fanny, a single-tree and chain, with a 10-foot log attached, Joe Loomis, I feel sure, would not long hold the championship.

Woody Nook is determined to have better roads for her school children if she has to build them herself.

We understand a large sum has been subscribed to the Patriotic Fund. A report of the exact amount will be given in the next issue of the Globe.

Get your barbed wire now before the raise in price. O. Boode has just received a car-load.

Get the real hot coal—Day's—$4.50 per ton delivered, or $4.00 per ton off the car. Call H. A. Day.

Frank Palm is leaving this district. Frank is an old-timer, and we are sorry to see him go. John Kurzmann has rented his farm.

Bill Andrews has been busy hauling logs to the mill the last few days.

Mike Sestrap, our genial store-keeper, is going to move to the Eckville store. Dan Clauson will manage the Gilby store.

Kid Kaiser has won the big Verdun no-decision fight, and has been awarded the popular newspaper verdict on points. The Kid showed remarkable recuperative powers, but Battling Alikes with him with a strong defence and still right-hand jab, inflicting severe punishment, and the Kid will never look the same again.

Jno. Kurzmann has been working in the Bad Lands this last week. He was engineer on a house-moving bee, when Len Dedos moved his house of the Dead Dog Ranch on to his home-stand.

The Winner Fanning Mill will separate oats from wheat or barley. Call and let us show you. Morrison & Johnston, Limited.

Bentley News

Well, another winter, and we hope the last for this season, as this is not allowing the roads to dry up very fast.

News is scarce this week; haven't met Bill B. Lee, and suppose that he wouldn't have told us anything if he had.

The Geo. A. Graham Sale, on Monday last, was a success; fair prices and plenty to eat, so everyone was satisfied.

J. G. Blish has made some changes in the arrangement of his store, moving the P.O. into the other part.

J. B. McPherson, his wife, and niece (Alice), autoed in from their mill on Monday, making the trip of 33 miles in four hours; not bad for the combination of snow, ice, water, mud, etc., that composes the roads.

W. M. McPherson is quite ill at the home of E. Osgood, near Bentley.

The Village now has a 30-ft. extension ladder for fire fighting and it would be well to add to this equipment as fast as we are able to afford it. Heretofore we have had nothing but a church bell, a few pails, and a bunch of husters to turn out when needed, and so far have been very lucky.

Advertisement.—Over twenty-five thousand feet of B.C. siding to turn at a low figure during the next 30 days at the Bentley Lumber Yard. A lot of odds and ends, put at cost and below, at the McPherson Grocery. See Saturday's Bargains.

Blackfalds News

There will be a meeting of the Red Cross Society at the residence of Mrs. L. A. Hill, Blackfalds, on Wednesday, March 22, at 2 o'clock.

Let us show you our Power Washer, with engine attached. Takes up the same space as an ordinary washer, but will do all the work. Call and see it. Morrison & Johnston, Limited.

Brooksley News

On Friday, Feb. 25th, a small sale of work was held in the school-room at Brooksley in aid of the Red Cross. The work had been done on Saturday afternoons by the little girls of the district under the supervision of Mrs. C. P. Brock and Miss Frieda Jacobsen. The articles made were all quickly sold, as well as the boxes of home-made candy, which were contributed by several ladies in the vicinity. The sum of $30.00 was realized.

See our 10c. and 15c. tables. Morrison & Johnston, Limited.

The Presbytery of Lacombe

This court met at Daysland on Monday, the 6th inst., and continued in session until late on Tuesday evening. It was presided over by an excellent supper provided by the Ladies Aid of Knox Church. It was attended by thirteen ministers and eight elders, with Rev. John K. McKean, moderator.

The first matter to engage attention was the resignation of Rev. D. C. Ramsay, of Camrose. Mr. Luck, commissioner from the congregation, expressed the utmost respect for Mr. Ramsay as a man and a minister, and stated that it was the unanimous desire of the people that he should see his way clear to withdraw his resignation. Mr. Ramsay reciprocated the kindly feeling expressed by the people, but stated that, owing to the health of his wife, a change was necessary. The Presbytery, therefore, regretfully accepted his resignation, to take place on 31st of March.

Standing committees were appointed for the year.

Rev. John Neil, D. D., Toronto, was nominated as Moderator of General Assembly, and Rev. Wm. Shearer, superintendent of missions, as Moderator of Synod.

The following were appointed commissioners to the General Assembly: Revs. M. White and John Tate, and Messrs. D. J. McKitterick and Geo. Grant, elders.

Rev. N. A. D. Sinclair, M. A., B. D., Cochrane, Ont., and Rev. A. Smellie, M. A., D. D., Carleton Place, Ont., were put in nomination for the professorship of Divinity in Montreal College.

Mr. Sinclair had a majority of votes, and his nomination was made unanimous.

Reports were submitted on Statistics, Social Service, Sunday School and Young People's Societies.

The Presbytery expressed its sympathy with the action of the Calgary Presbytery re the appointment of army chaplains.

It was agreed to renew the application for admission to our church of Rev. John Stewart, from the U. C. Church of the United States, and of Rev. D. Whyte Smith, from the Congregational Church of Scotland, on condition that they comply with the General Assembly's requirements.

The Presbytery then took up the subject of union with the Congregational and Methodist Churches. It was agreed to have discussion, and proceed immediately to vote, when ten voted for, and five against union.

It was agreed, through the Social Service committee, to ask for the services of two evangelists for a period of at least six weeks.

After votes of thanks to the Ladies Aid, the managers of the church, and the families who had so kindly entertained the members, the Presbytery closed a most agreeable meeting with the Benediction.

Rose S. D. News

George Lee made a flying trip to Ponoka a few days ago to get a pair of field glasses to locate the coyote trouble. He was unable to secure a pair, as all the field glasses in Ponoka were too wide between the eyes. He is now looking up the unwritten law regarding coyotes killing prairie chicken out of season.

Norman Bennett has the "heart-felt" sympathy of the young folks who attended the dance in Rose School House a short time ago.

Tees News

A St. Patrick's dance will be held in Tees hall on St. Patrick's night, March 17th. Everybody welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dennis, and Dorothy Dennis, arrived on Thursday from Edmonton, and will make their home for a time with Mr. Dennis' parents near town.

Moore, who was en route to Springfield, Ill., and at Calgary was met by her father, D. Moore, with whom she will make her future home.

Paul A. Moore has purchased Mr. Hudkins interest in the Clive Hardware Store. We wish him every success in his new line of business.

We note our friend, Roy E. Palmer, has purchased the Clive Meat Market, and if he will send us down a nice roast we will appreciate it. Success to you, Roy.

False Patriots

George Giller, writing to the Toronto News, hits the French-Canadians who are kicking up such a row at the present time over bilingual schools and doing all they can to prevent recruiting.

He says:

"We have here, and far and near, the bugle's thrilling call to arms; the rallying of the recruiting party; the martial music of pipe and cornet, fife and drum, soul-stirring appeals from pulpit and altar; the sweet-voiced choir and swelling tide of the mighty organ giving uplift to men's souls to high ideals and to the heights of the great argument that they may measure up to the challenge of the world-wide tragedy now deciding the destiny of mankind—its claims and responsibilities."

From distant shores of ocean we hear the glorious voices of the great conflict raging with varying fortune on behalf of freedom, humanity, justice, virtue, innocence, Christian civilization—all that makes life worth living. We hear the thunder of the guns, the scream of flying shot and shell, the exploding bomb, the cheering of our own undaunted sons as they charge and countercharge. Oh, how these voices appeal. A new inspiration to duty, a clearer vision, the grandeur of the sublime tragedy enthalls and stirs to the deepest depths the mind and soul of man.

And yet, in the pause of a moment, we hear coming up the wind most discordant sounds, sounds of complaining and strife-making. Creatures of puny minds, of vast pretences, pseudo patriots on the look out for some way of escape from manifest patriotic duty.

Our best and bravest—some of them with more on their way to join them—raise their breasts as bulwarks against the tyrant hordes who seek to trample gallant France under their cruel feet—France, the sunny land of France! Chivalrous, liberty-loving France! Now in a life and death struggle. Shall France be saved from the tyrant's heel, or shall France be conquered, a nd again taste the bitter humiliation and devastation of defeat. That the cup has not passed to her lips is due mainly to British power on sea and land, to the sons of Britain from all over the world who are fighting desperately alongside of the heroic sons of France to drive back the hordes of butchers and frightfulness and military tyranny whose boast so widely proclaimed, is that Germany shall dominate the world.

Do they, these mullah braying patriots, do they consider what German triumph means? What would ensue from the conquest of France? German schools in all the conquered territory as in Alsace and Lorraine and now in Belgium, where the German teacher teaches the German language only.

The fight for the preservation of the French language is now being waged in France, a fight to the death. There in its cradle, its home, on its hearth, it is in danger of strangulation. It is fighting for its life. The pure, the beautiful language of France. What are these people doing to save it, these patriotic (?) French-Canadians who are raising such a dust now over a question involving provincial rights purely, and which must be settled by the high courts of appeal? The racket and the dust are but a part of their crafty scheme to cover up their escape to the shelter underneath the barn, the fox and the cat who seek sustenance likewise near the granary, the chicken coop, and the fat larder of abundance.

I wonder what these shallow sham patriots will expect from Germany should her terrific fighting machine triumph in Europe? Have they an assurance that Germany will respect their bilingual ambitions? Well, perhaps so. They have been doing their little bit for the Kaiser, and just now he is glad to get a little help, and will doubtless make the most of it. We shall see. The future will tell. There are still those who have faith that the future will hold the balance and deal out the measure of justice of honor or of infamy.

SUPPLY OF MUNITIONS

Rather too much has been said of the volume of business that the factories in the United States are doing in munitions. It seems to be understood by some that the republic is rather supplying the Allies with munitions, which is very, very far from being the case. Some time ago a semi-official statement was made to the effect that the United States furnished less than two per cent. Since then other estimates have been made which place the figure at nearly five per cent. Even accepting the latter figure as the correct one, it is evident that the contributions made by the United States are a very small proportion of the total number of shells being shipped to the front.

We have generally been led to believe that the Krupp factory at Essen was the largest munition plant in the world. Today the steel works alone of Sheffield are infinitely greater than the whole of the Krupp plant. Already upwards of twenty-five million dollars have been spent in new munition plants in Sheffield, and with the additions now under way, fifty million dollars' worth of new plants will shortly be turning out explosives from this one city. Upwards of 12,000 men are employed in shell-making in that city, while a number equally large are engaged in the manufacture of cannon.

Today Lloyd George has nearly 3,000 plants engaged in the manufacture of munitions, employing nearly 1,000,000 men and women. In addition to these plants, under direct government supervision, there are many other private factories engaged in the manufacture of shells and other war materials.

Canada has hundreds of factories doing their bit, while Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, and even India, are all shipping shells to the Huns via France and Flanders.

France is probably more thoroughly organized than is Great Britain, and is turning out millions of shells; Russia has taken over plants very much as Lloyd George did in England, while the whole of Japan has been turned into a workshop for the production of shells and other munitions for Russia. When to these countries was added the output of Italy and whatever Belgium may be able to do, the conclusion reached is that while the U. S. are very welcome, and will help in smothering the German guns, the Allies are in no way dependent upon Uncle Sam for their supplies of high explosives.

L. I. D. No. 399.

Re Damages of $522 Assessed Against Division No. 2.

To the Editor of the Western Globe:

Sir,—When, in the early part of the month of January, through the medium of your columns, an innocent but pertinent question was asked any one of three officials of the 1915 Council of L. I. D., No. 399, why Division No. 2 was saddled with damages amounting to $472, or $522, less $50 contributed by Division No. 1, I little thought of how much of your valuable space would be used without having the question answered.

Tradition informs us that the trouble began some eight or ten years ago when a now well-known resident of Lacombe, acting "under instructions" from an official or officials of the late L. I. D., 20-T-4, opened up along a certain road allowance a ditch which diverted certain water from its natural course. This diversion gave the claimant his legal status in his claim for damages against the Council of L. I. D. No. 399.

Taking it for granted that the above statement is true, and we have every reason to believe that it is, why should the south half of the late L. I. D. 20-W. 4, be penalized for the major part of the damages which began to accrue in the territory of, and under the management of, the late L. I. D. 20-T-4? Further, if the 1915 Council of L. I. D. No. 399, in their dying days, had the jurisdiction to narrow the territory liable for damages to Division No. 2, why did they not go further and assess all the damages against and collect benefits from the tract of land immediately benefited?

Thanking you for your valuable space, I am,

Yours truly,

RATEPAYER.

A NEW ALLY

There is much mystery about the relations between Germany and Portugal. A year or more ago Portugal declared its friendly relations with its ancient ally Great Britain, but no further action was taken. A few days ago Portugal seized some German ships interned in Portuguese ports and flew the Portuguese flag over them. The explanation given was not very clear, but the Portuguese reported that this did not constitute any breach of friendly relations with the Huns. However, the kaiser thought differently, and after delivering an ultimatum, declared war.

What was at the root of the whole thing is not very clearly indicated, but the best guess is that it arose in the beginning over the submarine situation.

The war situation will not be greatly affected by the addition of Portugal to the enemies of the Huns. However, it is one more and some help to the Allies. Portugal has a population of about 6,000,000 people and an army of about 150,000, which is not to be despised at any time. It has a small navy, including a coastal defence ship, four protected cruisers, some old pattern gunboats, four destroyers and a submarine.

The addition of Portugal may hasten the end of the war somewhat. It will have no other effect.

However, Portugal is welcome.

MANITOBA VOTES DRY

Winnipeg, Mar. 13.—By a vote of a little over two to one the province of Manitoba voted today in favor of the Manitoba Temperance Act, which closes all bars, wholesale licenses and club licenses throughout the province as from June 1 next. Liquor may still be imported by private persons from outside provinces, and the manufacture of liquor in the province for export is still permitted, it being beyond the power of the legislation to prohibit such. These are the constitutional limitations placed on the province in legislation along this line by the federal authorities, but to remove these limitations a mass meeting of citizens tonight, amid great enthusiasm, endorsed a resolution calling on Sir Robert Borden and his government at Ottawa to introduce a Dominion-wide prohibition act.
